

Graduate Certificate in Translation and Translation Studies (14 Cr)

The Graduate Certificate in Translation and Translation Studies, an interdisciplinary effort of several A&S departments (English, Romance and Arabic Languages and Literatures (RALL), Judaic Studies and Asian, East European and German Studies (AEGS)), aims to provide graduate (Masters and PhD) students with broad training in the theory, techniques, and philosophy of translation and translation studies. Students can earn this Certificate for pre-professional purposes or to become more knowledgeable about translation as a creative art and technique.

MODEL CURRICULUM

Requirement (4 cr.):

HUM 7002/4002 History and Theory of Translation

Practicums (4 cr.):

2 practicums, 2 cr. hour each

Possible electives (6 cr.)

ENGL 7104 Introduction to Literary and Cultural Theory ENGL/RALL 7016 Literary Translation

ENGL 7087 Innovative Forms

HUM 7003 / 4003 Methods of Media and Technical Translation

ENGL 7104 Introduction to Literary and Cultural Theory

SPAN 7039 Don Quijote in Translation

The Certificate is open to students on both West and East campuses, especially to those in Nursing, Medical Studies, and those preparing to work in the health care industry who might benefit from bi-lingual and pre-professional translation expertise.

The Certificate Director will work with students wishing to complete this Certificate within the timeframe of their graduate degree program to discuss options, exceptions, and possible substitutions as needed. All exceptions and substitutions will need to be approved by the Certificate Director.

INFO

Certificate Director, Mauricio Espinoza: espinojm@ucmail.uc.edu